

Hawaiian Gazette.

VOL. LIV. NO. 2

MOUNTAIN HOME TERRITORY. FRIDAY, JANUARY 6, 1911.—SEMI-WEEKLY.

WHOLE NO. 8236

DELEGATES WILL FIGURING HOW TO POLICE FORCE HEAD FOR HAWAII

Pan-Pacific Travel Congress is Now an Assured Success.

IN SESSION NEXT MONTH

Promotion Committee Receives
Letters from Prominent Men
Coming.

PERCY HUNTER.
Who will represent New South Wales at Pan-Pacific Travel Congress.

Hawaii's proposed Pan-Pacific Travel Congress, to be held in Honolulu on February 21 and 22, during the time of the Floral Parade carnival, has all the promise of a successful beginning, although the representation from various countries may be comparatively small at the first meeting.

Secretary H. P. Wood, of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, feels encouraged, from the communications he has received from the heads of travel bureaus in other lands, from railroad and steamship officials and prominent men in countries bordering on or in the Pacific Ocean, to prophecy that the Pan-Pacific Travel Congress will become one of the most important travel conferences in the future.

At the meeting of the promotion committee, yesterday, Mr. Wood spoke in the most optimistic terms of the prospect for bringing distinguished men to Honolulu every February 22 to discuss plans for increasing world travel.

MACOMB STARTS FOR HAWAII TO TAKE COMMAND

Brigadier-General Macomb, U. S. A., the newly selected commanding officer of the District of Hawaii, left San Francisco yesterday on the transport Sherman and will reach here on January 19. His orders were to leave for his new post on January 6 and he has doubtless complied with them. He will be accompanied by his wife and his adjutant general will not arrive here until March. Pending his arrival one of the local army officers will probably be designated to temporary duty as adjutant-general.

The arrival of General Macomb will give Hawaii a new station in Army affairs and much of the business pertaining to the various organizations which was formerly transacted in the department of California will be discontinued. All the separate military branches in Hawaii will be brought under the one head and where they have heretofore been odds and ends of the service, they will be a distinct entity.

General Macomb will find a multitude of cavalry, one battery of field artillery, one battery of field artillery, two companies of coast artillery, one company of engineers, a signal corps, which here are almost entirely a separate organization, a quartermaster department, a medical corps office and commandant of hospital.

In the near future an entire regiment will be sent, arriving in March, and two additional batteries of field artillery will arrive before the end of April. While additional companies of coast artillery will probably be on the way to this island before the end of the year. Another engineer company has already been designated for service in addition to the one now here.

LOP OFF EXPENSES CHANGES MADE

Board of Supervisors May Authorize Police Committee and Sheriff in Road Supervising All Together.

Attorney on Subject—
Senate to Go.

While the Board of Supervisors are bound by agreement not to increase its power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Allegation: Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.
While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

Majority of the city's taxpayers, who are seeking no increase for its police department, is represented by the leaders of the opposition group, has stated that the majority will vote their intention of consolidating the roads and will not let the county administer those roads. Those opposing consolidation, which are being elected by going over the lists of employees, are prepared to fight the bill six months and the County will tax the roads and the city's demands that may be made upon the technique, have been laid before the City Council, and some way to obtain sufficient money to meet those public works may be announced.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city and county.

May Abolish Taxes.

While the Republican members of the board are bound by agreement not to increase their power over roads, the County of Honolulu, which has been for many years in charge of roads, may also increase its administrative authority, and it may be done so as to consolidate the roads of the city